REGENPLASMA™

AUTOLOGOUS PLATELET-RICH PLASMA

About RegenPlasma™

The internal essence of the blood inside you contains life-giving fundamental growth factors that are designed to restore and repair your skin. RegenPlasma's™ leading edge patented technology, harnesses a high concentration of your own biological cells and unleashes them to naturally promote skin health. RegenPlasma™ stimulates the rebuilding of the underlying structural integrity of your skin. With the simple and quick RegenLab™ process, your own blood is safely prepared at the clinic's premise and is delivered to your skin within the same treatment session.

How does RegenPlasma™ work?

RegenPlasma™ is regenerative medicine and works best aesthetically when it is introduced into the skin. Your own enhanced concentration of cells will then work with your body to naturally promote a process for new tissue and collagen growth.

When will I see results?

After the treatment patients often notice fine lines and wrinkles have softened and deeper wrinkled areas, such as nasilabial-folds, may look more plump and smoother. However, according to studies, the main goal of a RegenPlasma™ treatment is to stimulate fibroblasts and develop long-term collagen formations in the dermis. Any plumping in the treated areas with RegenPlasma™ may slowly be absorbed into the dermis creating a platform for better skin and a more healthy appearance.

Overall, results are gradual and will vary from person to person based on health, age and genetic make-up. Most patients enjoy quantifiable improvements in skin complexion, texture and tone, usually within three weeks. Subtle improvements can progressively continue for up to a year.

RegenPlasma™ can be combined with other aesthetic treatments and often provides superior synergistic results.

What areas can be treated with RegenPlasma™?

RegenPlasma™ PRP is derived from your own biological make-up and does not contain synthetic products, therefore, virtually any area of the body can be treated, such as: face, neck, chest, hands, scars, etc.

How many treatments will I need?

The basic strategy for a RegenPlasma™ program can range from one to three treatments spaced four to six weeks apart. Yet, once you discuss the primary priorities of your skin needs with your physician, the number of and time between treatments could vary.

Are there any side effects?

Because all constituents retrieved in RegenPlasma™ are exclusively from you (autologous in origin), there is virtually no risk of an allergic reaction or intolerance. Nevertheless, before the treatment you need to disclose all the medications you are taking (including herbs) with your doctor.

How will I take care of my skin after the treatment?

In order to enjoy a maximum response to your RegenPlasma™ PRP treatment, you should eat right, drink lots of water and incorporate the recommended skin care program by your physician.
